Create More Space in Your Place FREE 5-Day Challenge

I'd love your support as I embark on a new platform for helping others!

Give your life and your environment more space with The FREE 5-Day Create More Space In Your Place Challenge. Join 3 home improvement industry leaders as we share our expertise in creating more space that works for you. And, since no one should take on challenges alone, invite your friends and family, too!

Meet Experts, Learn Industry Secrets, and Win Prizes!

SOULganizing offers customized approaches and mindful methods to becoming and staying organized, so you can enjoy the people and activities you want. During sessions, we optimize the function of your home or office, create flow to your processes, and free your time and areas, which relieve you from feeling stress, discouragement and overwhelm.

I've been organizing homes, offices, businesses, schedules, moves, events and publications for over 20 years, and a Professional Organizer for over 5. With specialties in Move Management and Life Transitions, I have the experience to work on projects large and small, simple and complex.

Now, I look forward to reaching more people who want to get and stay organized, but who may not be in the location I serve. Or those who want a more DIY approach. In addition, I'll have more future online offerings... so, stay tuned!

Sunday, Oct 24 @ 2pm PDT

During my session, "Stacking the Small Wins," we'll discuss mini adjustments you can make, and how you can stack them to feel more organized. Invite others to join, and be entered to win giveaway prizes and ViP offers!
